

Medical Marijuana

Be Wise. Legalize.

Marijuana has been cultivated and consumed since the beginning of recorded time. Marijuana-based textiles from 7,000 B.C. have been found in northern China. Written references to use marijuana medicinally date back over 5,000 years ago. Currently, marijuana is the third most popular recreational drug and more than 14 million people smoke it regularly. Eight out of 10 Americans support the use of medical marijuana and 58% favor legalizing it.

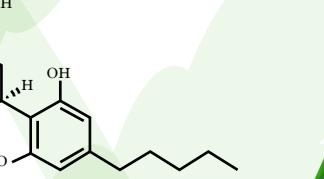

Consumption Methods

Traditionally, patients have been solely responsible for determining the right dosage of cannabis. The key to finding the right dosage is to understand that each product has a different potency and absorption rate. Your own personal preferences and your body type play a big part in determining the correct dosage and consumption.

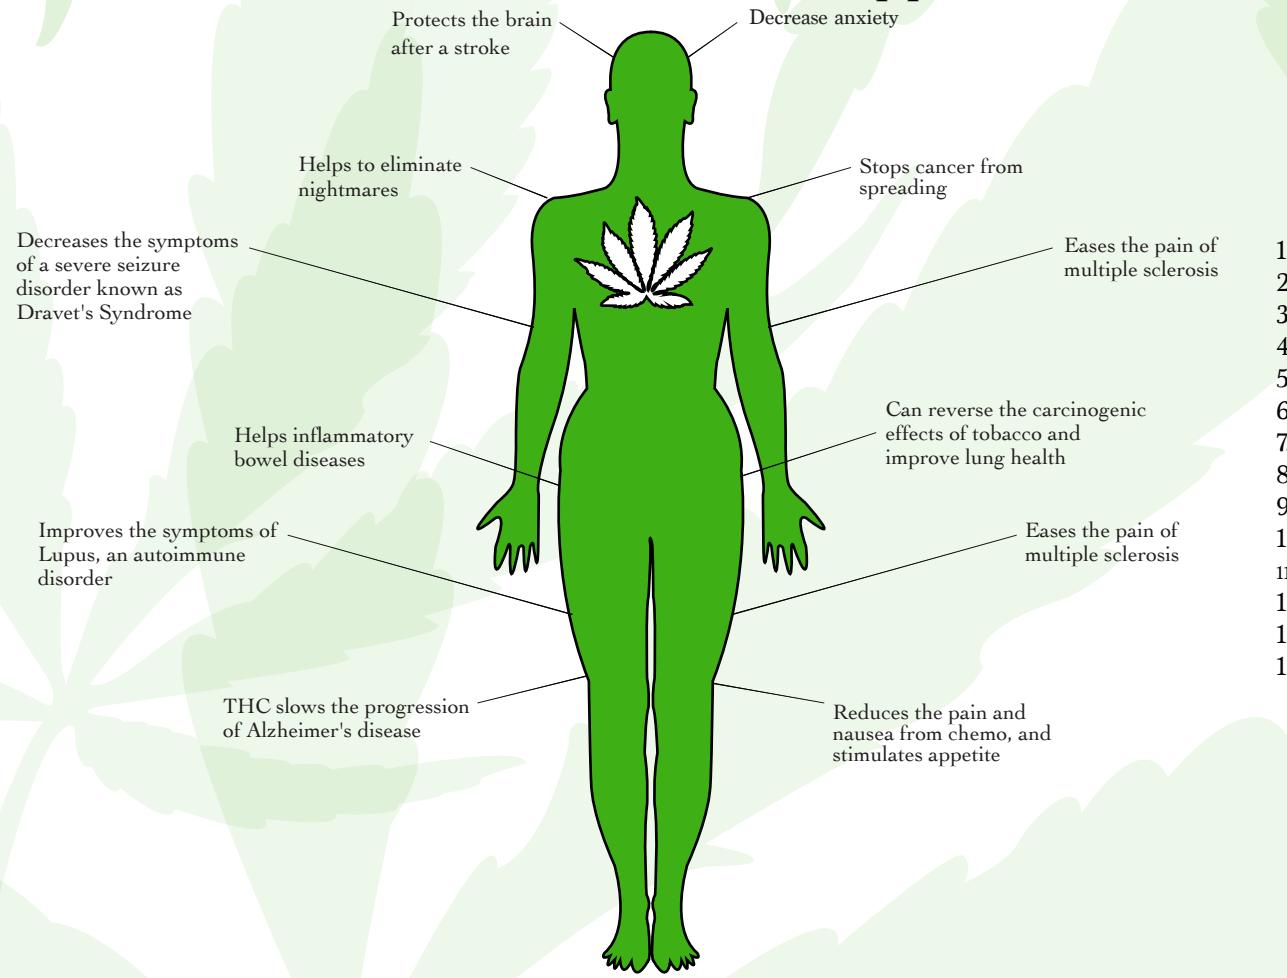

THC

THC, tetrahydrocannabinol, is the primary ingredient in marijuana. It is one of more than 60 active ingredients found in marijuana. THC has a variety of medical benefits such as, relief from pain, nausea, and depression. It has been proven to protect and stimulate brain cell growth.

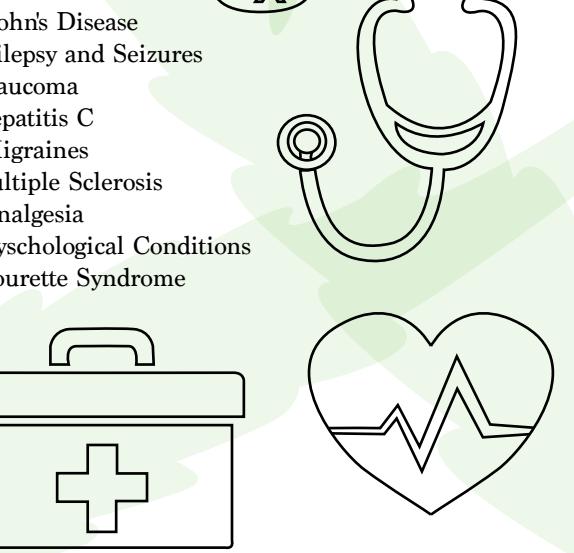

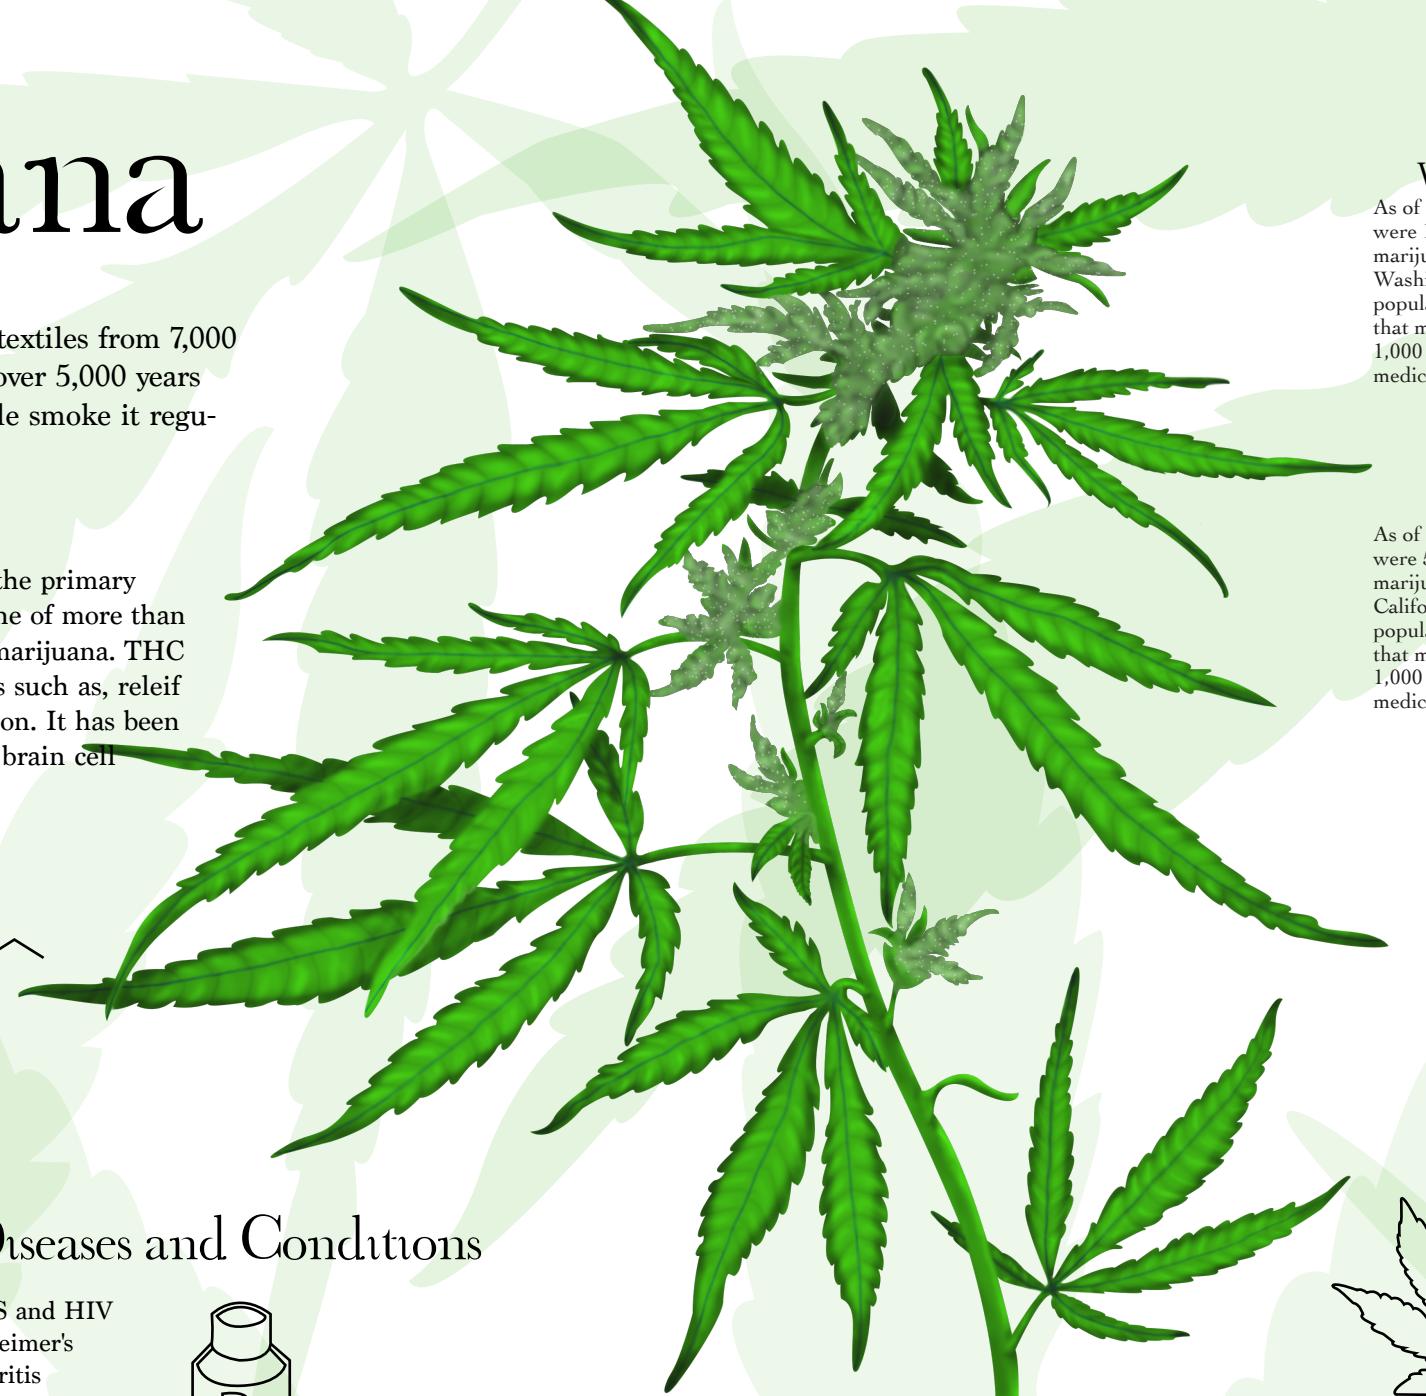

Health Benefits and Clinical Applications

Diseases and Conditions

1. AIDS and HIV
2. Alzheimer's
3. Arthritis
4. Asthma
5. Cancer
6. Crohn's Disease
7. Epilepsy and Seizures
8. Glaucoma
9. Hepatitis C
10. Migraines
11. Multiple Sclerosis
12. Analgesia
13. Psychological Conditions
14. Tourette Syndrome

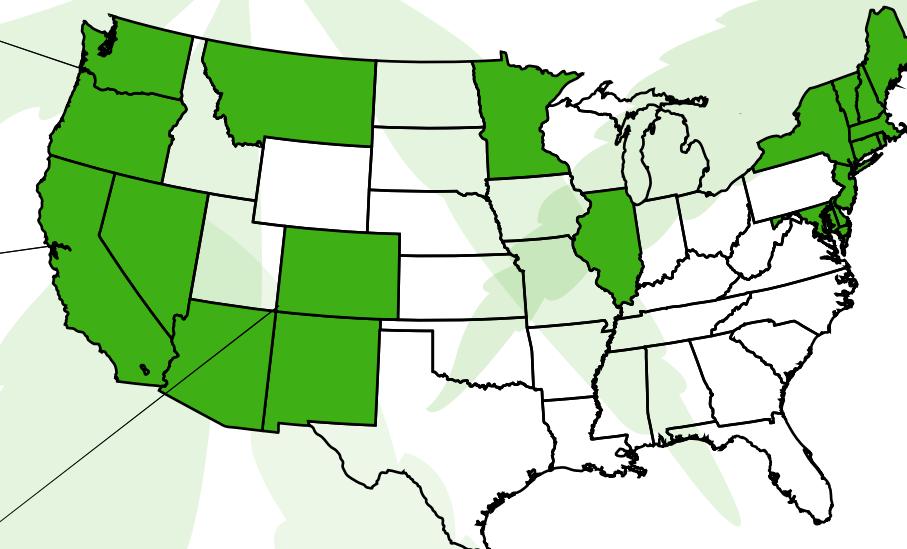

States with Legalized Medical Marijuana

Washington
As of October 2014, there were 103,444 medical marijuana patients in Washington. With a state population of 6,971,406, that means 14.8 patients per 1,000 state residents used medical marijuana

California
As of October 2014, there were 572,762 medical marijuana patients in California. With a state population of 38,332,521, that means 14.9 patients per 1,000 state residents used medical marijuana

Colorado
As of October 2014, there were 111,804 medical marijuana patients in Colorado. With a state population of 5,268,367, that means 21.2 patients per 1,000 state residents used medical marijuana

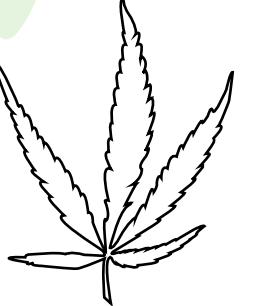

Top 20 Strains

These are the top 20 strains of marijuana that were legally smoked in 2014.

1. Blue Dream
2. Sour Diesel
3. Girl Scout Cookies
4. Green Crack
5. Jack Herer
6. SFV OG
7. Headband
8. Fire OG
9. White Widow
10. Super Lemon Haze
11. Bubba Kush
12. OG Kush
13. Durban Poison
14. Tahoe OG
15. Master Kush
16. Skywalker OG
17. Cherry Pie
18. Blackberry Kush
19. Trainwreck
20. Pineapple Express

Indica vs. Sativa

Strains originated from higher altitudes and can be found in countries known for their hash culture such as, Morocco and Afghanistan

- Tall, stalky plant
- Small, bushy plant
- Has a higher amount of THC
- Strongest analgesic effect
- Relaxing and calming
- Body buzz
- Best suited for night use

Strains originated from areas around the equator and can be found in countries such as, Mexico and Thailand

